50% off conference

We are excited to open submissions for the poster session at the 10th Annual Verbal Behavior Conference! The conference's mission is to highlight, support and mentor practitioners and researchers who use the theoretical, practical and empirical information about verbal behavior in their practice. This year, poster presenters can present in person if they are attending the conference, or virtually through BehaviorLive.

Guidelines

Submissions must show that the work has scientific merit in the field of verbal behavior. Submit an abstract of 150–200 words following APA style. A data-based abstract must also give an overview of the types of participants and procedures, state what the data showed, and include a graph or table summarizing the data. Data need not be complete at submission, but the abstract and graph or table must show the project is well under way. Graphs and tables must be professional quality and APA formatted.

Style

Attachments must be a single-page PDF. Presenting author and co-author information is required for every submission.

Poster size

No larger than 3' 10" × 3' 10" to fit the provided poster boards. Fill the whole space, and make every part readable from at least 6 feet away. Keep the title specific and succinct. Include an Introduction, Method, Results with easy-to-read graphs, Summary of Results, Discussion and References.

The session

The poster session is on Thursday, April 8, 2027, in person or virtually. Presenters will receive further details by email the week before VBC 2027.
